

The Nation's Health, July 2021, Volume 51, No. 5

Nation

Climate change returns to top of US agenda, earning praise: New administration embraces action

Public health approach to police reform gaining momentum: States, cities redirecting police funding

Communities improving access to food, health services via initiative: Teamwork pays off

Nation in Brief

- Eviction bans prevented COVID-19 spread to thousands more in US

State and Local

Volunteer group bolsters Chicago COVID-19 vaccination work

States in Brief

Globe

Glacier floods endangering lives of villagers in high mountains

Q&A with vaccine developer Adrian Hill: 'Why shouldn't we have a big push on malaria?'

Malaria vaccine candidate shows promising early results, study finds

Healthy You

Blood talk: Keeping your body's fuel lines healthy

- Give to your community: Become a blood donor

Health Findings

Health Findings

APHA News

Registration opens for APHA's Annual Meeting July 1: APHA 2021 to be hosted Oct. 24-27 in Denver, online

APHA Press book explores aging for growing US older population

Recommendations call for boosting member engagement, connections: APHA
Governing Council to get update

APHA Advocates

US takes on health care discrimination: Celebrating 50 years of The Nation's Health

President's Column

What will the pandemic mean for the public health class of 2021? Let's reach out to our new colleagues

On the Job

US health system can build back stronger, NAM experts assert

On the Job in Brief

Sections

APHA member groups stay connected using virtual events: Online events to continue after pandemic

Journal Watch

Journal Watch

General

In memoriam

Web-only News

Newsmakers — July 2021

Resources — July 2021