

The Nation's Health, April 2022, Volume 52, No. 2

Nation

Wastewater monitoring grows as public health tool: National surveillance system shares data on COVID-19

Funding from US rescue act benefiting local public health: Flexible money strengthens programs

Public health readying for next pandemic while battling COVID-19: Rebuilding US health infrastructure

New plan would eliminate all lead drinking water pipes in US

Report: Better assessments needed to diagnose traumatic brain injury

Nation in Brief

Globe

Safe, inexpensive vaccines may play role in protecting world from COVID-19 — Q&A with Peter Hotez: 'We are trying to be the fire department here, because the world is on fire'

Report: Lack of global progress on preventing childhood deaths

Globe in Brief

Healthy You

Resilience: How to bounce back when times are tough

Health Findings

Health Findings

APHA News

Submit now: Abstracts open for APHA 2022 in Boston

National Public Health Week observed this month: Communities across US come together April 4-10 to celebrate

Addressing childhood trauma can impact suicide, drug overdose

APHA Press: New CCDM edition now available in e-book form — Print edition available in summer

APHA Advocates

APHA in Brief

President's Column

When it comes to rural health, it's time for us to do better

On the Job

Millennials in governmental public health similar to their peers

On the Job in Brief

Affiliates

Public health, accessibility drive Minnesota's branding redesign

Affiliates in Brief

Journal Watch

Journal Watch