

The Nation's Health, April 2025, Volume 55, No. 2

Nation

Environmental justice work targeted by Trump DEI orders <OA>

Growing US consumption of ultra-processed foods raises concerns about health harms <OA>

On the Job

Predatory journals can harm health research, hold back academic progress <OA>

- 10 tips for spotting predatory journals

State & Local

States in Brief

Globe

Extreme weather disrupts classes for 240 million schoolchildren <OA>

Globe in Brief

Healthy You <OA>

Making connections can be the cure for loneliness <OA>

- Tips to chase away the loneliness

Health Findings

Health Findings

APHA News

APHA lawsuit halts Trump funding freeze: Association leading the way to protect public health from administration threats

Alfredo Morabia reflects on 10 years at the helm of AJPH as he ends his term <OA>

National Public Health Week 2025 to celebrate 30 years of success April 7-13 <OA>

New edition of popular APHA Press book explores racism, health equity <OA>

APHA Advocates

President's Column

Ongoing crisis of Black maternal deaths requires broader approach

Journal Watch

Journal Watch

Sections

Volunteering with APHA's member groups can be a boost for public health careers

Oral Health Section defends fluoride amid misinformation

In Memoriam

In memoriam

Web-only News

Newsmakers: April 2025 [e2] <OA>