The Nation’s Health, May 2009, Volume 39, No. 4

Nation
Transportation, public health go hand-in-hand: Advocates gear up for renewal of federal transportation bill
- Advocates call for new national transportation plan

Health reform gains momentum, policy-makers seek public’s input

Obama says science will lead health, environmental decisions

Anti-inhalant abuse campaign targets building codes: ‘Huffing’ of air conditioning refrigerant a dangerous risk

EPA recognizing community aging programs: 2009 award entries being accepted through July 17

Nation in Brief

State & Local
Few U.S. states improve grades on mental health report card

Commission to take on Alaska’s health challenges

Michigan tobacco quit line closes after demand outpaces funding

States in Brief

Globe
Q&A with cancer prevention advocates: Policies must support healthful choices

Healthy You
It’s very wise to take care of your eyes

Health Findings
- Ultraviolet lights can dramatically cut spread of TB, researchers find

On the Job
GAO report outlines challenges facing U.S. veterinary work force

Webcast explores health department planning, ideas

On the Job in Brief

General
Health, science educators cast in Hollywood supporting role: Lights, camera, action: Public health!

APHA News
APHA lauds House for vote to give tobacco regulation to FDA
Discounts make APHA meeting more affordable: Hotel rates reduced for Philadelphia meeting in November

National Public Health Week a success

Nominations open for awards from APHA Sections, SPIGs

APHA elections open May 15: Vote for your Section leaders

Social media courses to be offered at APHA Learning Institute in November

APHA Advocates

President's Column
Public health nursing: A class act with long history of service

Journal Watch

Affiliates
APHA Affiliates bringing public health education to undergrads

New York City Affiliate targets obesity, access to healthy foods