

The Nation's Health, August 2013, Volume 43, No. 6

Nation

Improving awareness as states gear up for health exchanges: Open enrollment set to begin Oct. 1

Work to document violence against health workers growing: Health outreach continues, despite risks

New mental health manual introduced for changing health field: DSM-5 released

Report: Gun violence risks, prevention should be studied: Research priority areas identified

Benjamin completes term as U.S. surgeon general

Emergency contraception set for unrestricted over-the-counter sales

CDC campaign stresses patient-doctor relationship in kicking smoking habit

Q&A with Scott Becker of the Association of Public Health Laboratories: 'It really is all about the babies': 50 years of screening: Testing newborns can prevent lifelong illness

New drug control strategy takes public health approach

Nation in Brief

State & Local

Community health workers key to Chicago asthma intervention success

Pilot health program in Detroit schools aims to reduce dropouts

States collect, analyze public drinking water data: California, Vermont make information available to public

States in Brief

Globe

New respiratory illness takes center stage at close of World Health Assembly

Report: Latin America must confront rising cancer rates

Globe in Brief

Healthy You

Good habits can help you stay healthy as you age

- Exercise your way to health

Health Findings

Health Findings

On the Job

HHS launches revised standards for culturally competent care

On the Job in Brief

General

Correction

APHA News

Scholarship open to APHA members who enroll in online MPH program

APHA hopes Annual Meeting-goers will give back to Boston-area charity

Elections to be held at APHA's 141st Annual Meeting: APHA president, executive board candidates announced

Two APHA tools honored with national awards

APHA, PAHO launch partnerships

APHA Advocates

President's Column

Addressing childhood obesity requires community approach

Journal Watch

Journal Watch

Student Focus

Student-led public health programs thrive under long-running fellowship

California students use videos to promote health: Students make global public health shine on the small screen

Membership, national meeting among topics for Student Assembly

Students in Brief

Letters

Address gun violence by reaching kids

Fewer glasses of water not a deficiency

How we die is public health concern

Web-only News

Online-only: Parents unclear on safety seat use, but laws may help [e29]

Online-only: Flame retardants harmful to child development, under continued scrutiny [e30]

Online-only: Stereotyping seniors as forgetful can affect performance on memory tests [e31]

Newsmakers: August 2013 [e32]

Resources: August 2013 [e33]