The Nation’s Health, October 2017, Volume 47, No. 8

Nation

Stigma, bias against people with obesity can harm health: Person-centered approach recommended

Smoking rates still high among low-income Americans: Disparities ongoing

Regulatory changes ignore science, threaten public health: New administration eroding progress

Q&A with National Resilience Institute’s Molly Marti: Communities must work toward resiliency: Climate change increasing risks for local weather, disaster events

New research: More Americans have epilepsy than ever before

CDC: Millions of Americans unaware of their own diabetes status, risk

Scientists: 2016 was hottest year ever recorded: Three years of consecutive peak heat spells trouble for health

Nation in Brief

• Commonwealth Fund report: ACA led to huge drop in uninsured women

State & Local

Teen advocates work to improve road safety around their schools

Study: Life expectancy getting worse for Appalachian communities

States in Brief

Globe

Little investment in breastfeeding hurts lives, economies worldwide

Globe in Brief

Healthy You

Learn to cope and relax with meditation

• Meditation for the whole family

Health Findings

Health Findings

• Study: Greenhouse gas emissions may impact iron deficiency

On the Job
Call to improve disaster readiness at biomedical research institutions

On the Job in Brief

APHA News
Meeting-goers pitching in to help Atlanta children
Make room for wellness with range of APHA 2017 activities
APHA’s Don Hoppert on the fight to protect the ACA: ‘We can’t let up’

APHA in Brief
APHA Advocates

President’s Column
Identifying the roots of despair and violence to lead a response

Journal Watch
Journal Watch

Student Focus
Student events planned for APHA’s 2017 Annual Meeting and Expo
Minnesota students’ video project boosts local breastfeeding efforts
Drexel students use data to improve fire, emergency services

Students in Brief

In Memoriam
In Memoriam

Web-only News
Online-only: Extreme heat may cause pregnancy complications [e38]
Online-only: Healthy lifestyle adds years of life free of disability [e39]
Pet ownership increases risk of tick exposure [e40]
Newsmakers: October 2017 [e41]
Resources: October 2017 [e42]