The Nation's Health, August 2026, Volume 56, No. 6

Nation

Data centers increasingly encroaching on public health <OA>

Exemptions, lagging vaccinations hurting work to contain measles in US <OA>

Next surgeon general should put science over politics, experts say <OA>

Supreme Court may rule on vaccination exemptions <OA>

US healthcare trails in access, affordability among high-income nations <OA>

Nation in brief

Globe

Unsafe food linked to 1.5 million annual deaths globally, WHO says <OA>

Globe in brief

State & Local

States in Brief

Healthy You

The power of friendships for a happier, healthier life <OA>

Health Findings

Health Findings

On the Job

Politicizing grant review harms public health, advocates say <OA>

On the Job in Brief

APHA News

APHA 2026 to center on public health science

2026 APHA election: Alleyne, Cariou run for APHA president

Better messaging can advance health policies, experts share at 2026 Policy Action Institute <OA>

APHA Press book provides public health fundraising tips <OA>

APHA in Brief

APHA Advocates

President’s Column

Mothers don’t need pressure to breastfeed. They need our support

Journal Watch

Journal Watch

General

Summer Reads: Catch the wave of new and noteworthy public health books <OA>

Web-only News

Newsmakers: August 2026 [e6] <OA>